1.5.UGB Internal Team Formation

The UGB will integrate the good practices and the knowledge of IT governance in its formations. First, staff member will acquire this new discipline by participating in the courses and workshops scheduled in this project. Then, this knowledge will be transferred to society via new courses for the students or oriented formation for the industry. This project is also a good opportunity to enhance the relationship with the industry sector, locally and nationally. In fact, companies may share their experiences and problems in IT governance. This will help the university adapt its formations to be adequate with the industry needs. The university will participate in elaboration of the deliverables of this project namely white papers, good practice guides and scientific publications. The University of Gabes will also coordinate the “Development” work package.
