4. Conclusions on the deployment of the framework

In general terms, the University of Gabes team has provided several documents showing their implication in the project and the engagement of the leaders of their institution. Attached to each deliverable, they have included several evidences indicating the progress of their activities. It is worth noting the evolution of the University of Gabes institution regarding IT governance, in some cases from nothing to some controlled processes. However, it is true that in most of the principles they started from the lowest level, thus, maybe the improvements are still in its beginnings.

Regarding the IT governance framework in particular, the University of Gabes has presented the research about several ITG frameworks, the selection of the Spanish GTI4U framework and therefore, the adaptations to their specifically reality, a full, detailed and completed plan of actions based on their self-assessment and their desire to improve principle by principle, considering their resources, their involved stakeholders and a strong risk management.
